THE SUBSCRIBER

Offers For Sale,

The following valuable property, viz.

36 ACRES of ground on Coal hill below the mouth of Sawmill run. From this ground there is a beautiful view of the city.

108 acres, three miles from Greensburgh. This is good land covered with timber, which on account of being so near town makes it more valuable than if clear.

243 acres on the left bank of the Ohio river, sixteen miles down from the city. On this tract there is about fifty acres of bottom on the river, cleared and wrought by a tenant. The rest is timber land, nearly all capable of being cleared and wrought, and suitable for pasture ground.

200 acres of very rich unimproved land, within eight miles of Meadville.

An undivided fourth part of about seven hundred acres in the state of Kentucky. This is very valuable, being the seat of the town of Greensburg; the county town of Green county, and situate on the bank of Green river; which is navigable from many miles above the town to the Ohio.

I will sell also a four years lease of a mill for driving grindstones. This is situated at the mouth of Sawmill run, one mile from town.

The title of the above property will be made indisputable.

JAMES BROWN.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 15, 1816—2awtf

Cut Tacks, Sprigs, Wood Screws.

ORMSBY & DOANE have just received from the Manufactory in Massachusetts, an assortment of Superior CUT TACKS, SPRIGS and WOOD SCREWS, which they will sell by the Box or Thousand. They have also,

PEARL ASH, BUTTER, LOAF SUGAR; SOAP and DIPT CANDLES by the Box, and an excellent assortment of CASTINGS, JUNIATA BAR IRON, &c. &c.

Pittsburgh, September 26, 1816.

FOR SALE,

That very Valuable Real Estate called

HAMILTON HALL.

THE subscriber, wishing to remove from the country to a town, offers for sale, his beautiful FARM, on which he now resides, ten miles from the city of Pittsburgh, on the southwest bank of the Monongahela river, and two miles from M'Keesport, on the confluence of the Youghioghany and Monongahela rivers, and nearly opposite the mouth of Turtle creek.

This tract consists of about 275 acres of choice land, of which there is nearly 140 acres of first rate river and run bottom—the remainder is excellent tillable upland—there is about 90 acres of river bottom land cleared, which will produce as good corn and grass crops as any in the western country. In point of beauty, as well as excellent quality, this farm is excelled by none. The dwelling house is spacious, 72 feet in length, and one and a half story high, very neat and handsomely finished; a large barn with stables underneath, besides a horse stable, and other out houses, two tenant houses, and an excellent new Saw-mill, with a fall of 22 feet, and a stream of water sufficient for the purpose, for nearly nine months in the year. The same seat will admit of a grist or other mills also. There are several excellent springs for distilling: a handsome garden, stocked with all kinds of shrubbery; a young thriving Orchard, of the best fruit, and more than 3000 sugar trees on said farm.

If desired, there will be sold with the estate 100 full blooded, three fourths, and half blooded MERINO SHEEP, of superior quality and beauty, besides horses, cows, &c. and all kinds of farming utensils. The proximity to Pittsburgh and its excellent market, which unquestionably is the best in the Union, and the convenience as well by land as by water, makes it one of the most desirable and valuable estates in the western country; not only the bottoms but a considerable part of the upland, is excellently calculated for meadow. A full description is deemed unnecessary, as it is presumed the property will not be purchased without viewing it; however, it is calculated the estate will clear from 2500 to $3000 per annum, if well attended to. It is clear of all incumbrance, and an indisputable title will be given.

Besides the above, the subscriber will sell three excellent tracts of BOTTOM LAND, situate about five miles from Harmony, and nine miles from Beaver, 25 miles from Pittsburgh, on the Conequenessing. This land is of the very best quality for meadow or corn; each tract has an improvement upon it; one a saw mill; and another, a good dwelling house, barn, &c.

Interesting Discovery.

To those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with

CANCERS.

AND to those whose feelings of humanity excite them to inquire and direct where they may obtain a perfect cure for that malady, in the most safe and effectual way:

Doctor Griggs,

No 277, North Second Street, Philadelphia,

Confident that his remedy is superior to all others that have ever been in practice, thinks it his duty to make it known to the public, that he has succeeded in effectually curing near one hundred persons in this city, of that most dreadful of all maladies, the CANCER, within the last two years; many of whom had despaired of ever obtaining a cure; of some whom had been attended in the Alms House and Hospital of this place, without success, and now are effectually cured.

By the afflicted's humble servant,

Daniel Griggs.

FROM THE QUEBEC GAZETTE OF NOV. 2.

LORD PALMERSTON's REWARD OF A VENERABLE AMAZON.

The following memorial, and its result, is too honourable to Lord Palmerston, and the spirited subject, to be omitted.

To the Right hon. the Secretary at War, &c

The memorial of Elizabeth Hopkins, wife of Jeremiah Hopkins, sergeant of the 104th (New Brunswick,) Regiment of Foot,

MOST HUMBLY SHEWETH—

That she was born of British parents at Philadelphia, in the year 1741—has her husband, six sons, and a son-in-law, viz. Jeremiah Hopkins, (husband) Saml. Woodward, Timothy Woodward, Robert Woodward, Nathaniel Woodward, Archibald Woodward, Nicholas Hopkins, (sons) Jas. M'Donough, (son-in-law) serving his Majesty in the 104th; and during the course of her life, from her zeal and attachment to her king and country, she has encountered more hardships than commonly fall to the lot of her sex. That in the year 1776, being with her first husband (John Jasper) a sergeant of marines, on board the brig Stanley, tender to the Rœbuck, she was wounded in her left leg, in an engagement with three French vessels, when she was actually working at the guns.

That the marines having been landed at Cape May, in America, her husband was taken prisoner by a Capt. Plunket, of the rebel army, near Mud Fort Nied, and sentenced to suffer death; that by her means he was enabled to escape, with 22 American deserters, to whom she served arms and ammunition, and on their way to join the army, their party was attacked by the enemy's light horse; she was fired at, and wounded in her left arm; but, undismayed, took a loaded firelock, shot the rebel, and brought his horse to Philadelphia, (the head quarters of the army) which she was permitted to sell to one of General Sir William Howe's aid-de-camps.

That after many fatigues and campaigns, her first husband died, and she married (Samuel Woodward) a soldier in colonel Chamber's corps, was with the troops uncer Gen. Campbell taken at Pensacola, having, however, during the siege, served at the guns, and tore her very clothes for wadding.

That having been exchanged at the peace of 1783, from attachment to the Royal cause, she embarked on board a transport with part of Delancy's and Chamber's corps was shipwrecked on Sea Island, in the Bay of Fundy, when near three hundred men, and numbers of women and children were lost—that she suffered unparalleled distress, being pregnant with a child in her arms, remained three days on the wreck, was taken up with her husband and child, by fishermen off Marble Head, and shortly after being landed, delivered of three sons two of whom are in the 104th, the other dead; lastly, that she has had the honour of being mother of 22 children, viz. 18 sons and four daughters, seven of the former being alive, and three of the latter!

That your Memorialist humbly prays, that you may consider her as a fit object for some allowance from the Compassionate Fund, towards her maintenance in her old age, having lost all her property, and as a reward for her long and faithful services to her king, and as in duty bound, shall ever pray.

Fredericton, N. Brunswick, 12th April, 1816.

The subject of this memorial is a wonderful old woman, much above seventy, and was well and hearty, at Quebec, two months ago. In consequence of her memorial, she obtained a pension of 100*l.* a year.—The following is another instance of her strength of mind; at Fort Erie, the pride of her heart, her twins fell; also M'Donough, her son-in-law, on hearing the news, she called [illegible] children round her, made them an [illegible]ed speech, charged them to be re[illegible] on the Yankees for their loss; and next time they went into action, they were cheered and encouraged by Mammy Hopkins, the name she goes by in the regiment!

Extracts from Hobhouse's Letters.

18. [illegible]ONS LANDING AT CANNES.

A [illegible]s had been in sight since mid-day.

On [illegible]th, and on the 1st of March, at three o'clock in the afternoon, the flotilla anchored in the Bay. A captain and five and twenty men were dispatched to make themselves masters of any battery which might command the landing place, and the officer finding none, marched without orders to Antibes, which he entered, but was made prisoner, by the officer commanding the garrison. The troops were disembarked by five in the evening, on the beach at Cannes; the emperor was the last to leave the brig, Napoleon took some refreshment and repose in a bivouac, which was prepared for him in a meadow surrounded by olive trees; near the shore, where there is now a small column, raised to commemorate the event, and where they shew the table on which he was served. The emperor, previously calling Jermanouski, asked him if he knew what cavalry horses had been embarked at Elba? The colonel told him, he knew nothing of the matter, and that he himself had not brought one. '" Well replied Napoleon, 'I have brought four horses; let us divide them. I fear I must have one; as you command my cavalry, you must have another. Bertrand, Drouet, and Cambrone, must settle about the other two as well as they can.' The horses had been landed some way farther down, so that the bivouac being broken up, Napoleon and his staff proceeded to the spot on foot. The emperor walked alone, interrogating some peasants whom he met. Jermanouski and the generals followed carrying their own saddles. When they found the horses, Bertrand, the grand marshal, refused to take one; he said he would walk. Drouet, followed his example. Cambrone and Molat were the other two mounted officers. The emperor then gave colonel Jermanouski a handful of Napoleons, and ordered him to procure some horses for immediate use. The colonel brought fifteen, giving any thing the peasants asked. They were harnessed to three pieces of cannon which were brought from Elba, and to a coach, given to her brother by the princess Pauline. News came of the failure at Antibes. We have made a bad beginning,' said the emperor;' but we have nothing to do but march as fast as we can, and get to the passes before the news of our arrival.' The moon rose, and Napoleon, with his invading army, moved forwards at eleven o'clolck. They marched all night the peasants of the villages through which they passed said nothing; they stared, shrugged up their shoulders, and shook their heads, when they were told the emperor was returned. At Grasse, a town of 6000 inhabitants, where there was a report that pirates had landed, every thing was in a state of alarm. Shops and windows were shut, and the crowds in the street, notwithstanding the national cockade, and the shouts of Vive l' Empereur. From this moment the people of the country seemed satisfied that the emperor had landed, and his march was rather a triumph than an invasion.—The cannons and the carriages were left at Grasse; and as the roads were steep and bad in the course of this first march, which was twenty leagues, (for they reached the village of Cerenon in the evening of the 2d,) the Emperor frequently walked on foot with his grenadiers, whom, when they complained of their hardships, he called his grumblers, and who laughed at him when he stumbled and fell. The familiar appellations by which he was known to his soldiers at this time were, Notre petit tonday, and Jean de l' Epee; and he frequently heard these names repeated in a half whisper as he was scrambling up the ascents amidst his veterans. He slept at Bareme on the 3d, and dined at Digna on the 4th; it was either here or at Castellan, as the colonel said, that Napoleon endeavoured to persuade the landlord of the inn at which he stopped, to cry Vive l' Empereur and when the man positively refused, and exclaimed, on the contrary, Vive le Roi! so far from being angry, praised his loyalty, and only asked him to drink his health, to which mine host acceded.

A letter from a person at Paris, gives the opinion that Austria and Russia have resolved to displace the Bourbons, and set the young Charles Napoleon in their stead. This hopeful youth lately reviewed the Austrian army in conjunction with the Archduke Charles his uncle; riding on a little horse along the line. He was of course graciously greeted. Such is the important story!—Whether it signifies something or nothing, we cannot tell.

A French paper states that a vessel is fitting out by Mr. Balgnesie, of Bordeaux, for the Northwest Coast—to double Cape Horn, put in for refreshment to one of the ports of Chili; proceed to Nootka Sound, thence to the Sandwich Isles, thence to China. and thence home. It would seem that this is an unusual voyage for a French ship.

LONDON, October 2.

It is said that a steam boat, which carries the mail between Petersburgh and the interior of Russia; and which sails against the tide at the rate of eight miles an hour, has her paddles so constructed, that they dip into the water and rise out of it perpendicularly. Perhaps this slight hint may suggest some improvement on the present mode of constructing these vessels.

Two dolphins were shot in Ipswich river last week; the largest was a female; the youngest might have escaped, but when the dam was wounded it appeared to rush to her assistance, and raised to the surface of the water, was shot by a gentleman of the name of Cobbold.

A Hamburg Paper states that in consequence of the high price of provisions in the south of Germany, and the fears of a dearth, the Austrian Government had prohibited the export of provisions by Salzburg, and the adjoining confines, into Bavaria.

Bernadotte—I send you the following particulars, narrated to me by a friend who was present last month in Scania, at Bernadotte's fraternal banquet with the Swedish peasants. The cause of this fraternity was said to be the refusal of a certain legitimate Sovereign to permit Bernadotte's son to marry a Princess of his house, and the hatred of the most of the Swedish Nobles, who speak of him as an upstart unworthy to be the King. To be revenged on those who despise his alliance or pretensions, he has according to report, formed a plan of transforming the kingdoms of Sweden and Norway into Federal Republics, of which the hereditary Presidency is to remain in his family. In all other respects, however, the Republican Constitution is to be similar with that of the United States of America. Paris Paper.

The Mines of Peru.—These mines having recently failed in their usual supply of silver, in consequence of the miners being prevented, by the overflowing of the waters from the constant prosecution of their work, the Spanish government has, with the sanction of England, engaged an English engineer to take to South America several steem engines, in order to draw off the superfluous waters, An arrangement has also been entered into between the two governments, for dies to be sent over, in order that the silver may be converted into dollars, and in this state be sent to England direct, agreeable to contract.

LONDON, Sept. 20.

Extract of a letter from Paris, dated 16th inst. "The Medusa frigate, of the fate of whose crew an account was lately given in the Journal des Debats, was commanded by an emigrant officer, who had not seen any service for five and twenty years. Upon the second in command remonstrating with him on the danger to which he was exposing the vessel by the direction he was giving it, this old, yet inexperienced commander, offended with the advice, put the officer under arrest. Hardly had he taken this step, when the frigate struck. You will observe that the surgeon who furnished the account of the event given in the Journal des Debats, and whose conduct in so doing was severely censured in the Moniteur, has been made to disavow his interesting, and but too accurate narrative.—This latter circumstance, in which the hand of power is so visible, has filled the public with indignation.

From the Auburn (N. Y.) Advocate of Nov. 6.

* Capital Piece of Surgery.—On Tuesday the 3d day of September last a son of Mr. Joel Calkins, of this town, about seven years old, was in company with a man who was dragging logs together with a pair of oxen, and who fastened his team with a chain, three feet from the small ends of two beach poles, fourteen feet in length and five inches in diameter each at the large ends; then driving quickly along with said poles, the boy walking in company with him, the small end of one of the poles catching into the ground, the large end therefore was raised with a quick motion perpendicularly over and obliquely forward, so that the very extremity of it struck said boy on the left and superior or upper side of his head, and levelled him to the ground, from whence he was raised and supposed to be dead for some minutes, but by moving and shaking him, he was enabled to breath again.

Medical aid was immediately procured, and his scull being laid extensively bare with the knife, the forehead, the temple, and the upper and back parts of the left side of his head were found fractured and shattered to pieces in a very shocking manner, and a portion of his scull, three and a half inches long and two and a half inches wide, on the left side of his head, was beat in upon the brain, from one eighth to one third of an inch deep, excepting at one end of two inches wide where it was connected to a solid portion of the scull; the fracture of the above depressed portion was half an inch larger in its whole extent on the inside of his scull than on the outside, it being scalded off under, and thereby making the inner edge of it very sharp and irritating.

In consultation the operation of Trepanning was determined on as the only alternative, and performed on Wednesday following, eighteen hours after the accident, and it became indispensible necessary to make four perforations, or holes, thro' the scull, with the Trepan, before the depressed portion of his scull could be raised out of the brain and fixed in its proper position, though repeated efforts were made after each of the three first perforations with different elevators, without effect. In the course of the examination of the different fractures of his scull, sixteen broken and detached or loose pieces of bones of considerable size, were found and removed: also a quantity of extravasated blood was discharged from beneath the scull.

The patient has been repeatedly and freely bled, blistered, and evacuated with physic; and is now (eight weeks from the date of the accident) so far recovered as to be able to walk about the room, goes out of doors in fair weather without assistance, has a good appetite, is perfectly rational, and we have no doubt in saying will perfectly recover.

The above surgical operations were performed, and case managed and treated by Dr. JOSEPH F. PITNEY, of this place, by whose request we visited this patient on the day of the operation.

PITTSBURGH.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1816.

From the official returns received at the Secretary of the Commonwealth's office, it appears, that the Caucus ticket has succeeded by a majority of 8,065 votes.

The National Intelligencer speaks thus of the reported misunderstanding with Russia:—"We speak on this subject from common report only. If a serious rupture with Russia is at hand, the approaching session of Congress will enable the Executive to place its character and progress officially before the people; who will find we are persuaded, that the administration has, on this occasion, compromitted neither the peace nor the dignity of the nation, but has, as is its wisest policy, endeavoured to preserve both inviolate.

Trial of Gen. Gaines.—The general court martial held at New York, has honorably acquitted Major Gen. Gaines of all the charges and specifications exhibited against him; most of which the court pronounces frivolous, and the whole of them without support or foundation. The President has approved the sentence, and Gen. Gaines is directed to resume the command of the Eastern section of the south division of the army.

The story of a Jew having collected a large army in the neighborhood of Babylon, is acknowledged to be a fabrication.

It is stated, that John Quincey Adams is to be recalled from London, and appointed Secretary of State under Mr. Monroe.

THE PLATTSBURG.

We learn from undoubted authority, says the Baltimore Patriot, that our government has promptly taken the most effectual steps to secure and bring to condign punishment the crew of the shooner Plattsburg, who mutinied, basely murdered the supercargo and officers of that vessel, and plundered the specie which she carried out.—Orders are also about to be sent, for the restoration of the schooner and remaining property on board, to the proper owner.—The atrocity of the case is such as to have successfully appealed to the executive for the adoption of the most certain and vigorous measures to prevent the escape of the savage culprits.

Congress will convene the 2d. of next month. As the members are sure of their salary whether they work little or much, it is probable the session will be short.

His Excellency Mr. Daschkoff, the Russian Minister in this country, has sent a Courier to his Government, in the ship Ann Maria, which sailed on the 12th inst. for Liverpool.

The sailing last summer of the United States sloop of war Prometheus, on board of which, it now appears, Mr. Coles, the Private Secretary of the President of the United States was sent to Russia, joined to some other circumstances which have come to our knowledge, make us fear that a very serious understanding has taken place with Russia. Relf.

It appears, that, by the last accounts in England, from St. Helena, Bonaparte and his household, had received letters from France, which produced an elevation of spirits in the whole corps. Bony had received a letter from his Maria Louisa—and Marchand, Boney's valet, received a letter from one of young Napoleon's domestics, with a lock of the boy's hair, on which occasion, there was a gala-day at Longwood.

The Virginia legislature have enacted a law suspending the act, until the 15th of December, to compel their state banks to pay specie after the 15th inst. The suspension is to give time for the consideration of a longer indulgence to the banks.

Present to the Duke of Wellington.—Late London papers mention, that the King of Portugal had sent a frigate to England with a very valuable present for the Duke of Wellington. It is said to consist of a very extensive service of plate, and to be packed in fifty-five cases. Its manufacture has occupied the first Portuguese Artists for two years. The bullion, of which the service is made, is said to have cost nearly a million of Dollars.

Latest from our Mediterranean Squadron—Capt. Allen, of the schooner Morgiana of New-Bedford, who arrived at N. York in 39 days from Palermo, informs, that the American squadron of eight sail, under Commodore Chauncey, had left Naples, and gone to Messina. The Ontario, sloop of war sailed from Palermo for Messina, to join the squadron, about the middle of September.

Mr. Pinckney had closed his negociations at Naples, and proceeded on his mission to Russia. Nothing certain was known as to the result of his negociations. It was, however, reported and believed, that he had brought the question at issue to a successful and amicable adjustment. It was also reported, but not believed, that he had demanded Nine Millions of Dollars; that he had already received a part of the sum finally agreed upon; and that the residue is to be paid in enstalments.

We regret to learn by Capt. Allen, that one of our Naval Captains had died on board the squadron. The name of the deceased officer, he does not recollect

From Barbadoes.—The captain of the British brig Amelia, from Barbadoes, which has arrived at Norfolk, states that the slaves of that Island, have again shewn strong symptoms of insubordination. Several conspiracies have been recently detected, one of which had in view to surprise and take possession of the Fort at Bridgetown.—A large number of the insurgents had been apprehended, and the civil authorities were constantly occupied with trials and executions."

The South American privateers swarm in the neighbourhood of the Canaries, to the utter dsstruction of the Spanish trade in that quarter, and to the west of those latitudes, English ships have been taken by them, and among these the Charlotte, of 500 tons, estimated at 50,000 dollars.

DEVOTION OF DR. VALLI.

A letter from Wm. Frost to Dr. Pascallis of the city of N. York, dated at Havanna, October 15, announces the death of this benevolent, learned and Quixotic physician on the 24th of September. He had travelled to the United States in vain; no yellow fever was found here, with which he wished to infect himself, as with the plague at Constantinople, that he might settle disputed points and ascertain its character—for the benefit of mankind. At Havanna, he was more fortunate! he caught the yellow fever, was delighted at the event—but soon fell a victim to its power. The writer says that "in consequence of his spare mode of living, the doctor was literally a walking skeleton." To this emaciated condition the impossibility of recovery is perhaps attributable; for, as Howard said when seized with fever, he was too low to bear depletion. We extract the following from the letter to Dr. Pascallis, published in the New York Evening Post of Saturday:—Col.

"The last experiment the doctor tryed on himself will surprise you more than any thing else. Laying aside the other exciting causes he was daily practising on himself, with the view to render himself the more susceptible of taking the yellow fever; on the 21st September, 14 days after his arrival in the harbour, and 12 days after landing in the city, (he being obliged to perform some port regulations customary for strangers who arrive here,) the doctor visited the St. John-a-Dieu, a hospital for the male poor of the city and Spanish and foreign seamen; and he was to have been accompanied by *Dr. Valle, the protomedicato, and Dr. Thomas Romei, two eminent physicians of this city: but from a multiplicity of business these two gentlemen did not meet Dr. Valli at the hospital as appointed—Dr. Valli however went through the different appartments of the hospital, examining the various cases in it, but making more particular enquiries after yellow fever patients. Finding out that some foreign sailors were recently dead of this malady, and were then lying in the dead room, he requested permission to see them, which was complied with. When he returned to Don Gonzalez, (at whose house, as I before observed, the doctor lodged) he related the following experiment he had tried on himself. The shirt in which one of the dead men had recently died of the yellow fever was taken off at the doctor's request, which shirt the doctor intended to have put on himself in contact with his naked body, in the same state in which it was when taken from the dead man, and had been worn by him while he was sick of the fever. The intention was to have tried this experiment before Doctors Valle and Romei; and he waited their arrival for some time; but, being impatient to wait any longer, the doctor rolls up the shirt in the state it was when taken from the dead man, and rubs it over various parts of his own naked person, such as his breast, face, hands, arms, thighs, &c. smells of it as though it had been a nosegay, and applies different parts of his naked person in contact with the body of the defunct by way of friction for several minutes: after which, he returned to his lodgings just before dinner.

At dinner, he was requested to set at table, and eat his soup as usual. Having been very much gratified with his experiment, as he expressed himself, and being a little fatigued by making himself merry with some young gentlemen in the house, who were new comers, at their foolish fears of catching the yellow fever, having been running after them to rub his hands against theirs, &c.; he said he would drink a glass of wine and then he should be able to ascertain whether his experiment affected him or not. He drank a glass of wine and soon after complained of being indisposed and went to bed. Towards evening he grew worse—He had taken no medicine excepting wine, and rum and water, with a little tincture of bark in it.

At night, or on the following morning, 22d of September, Dr. Came on, a Spanish physician who attended the family, was called to visit the doctor—Some trifling medicines were exhibited, little being thought by Dr. Cameron, of his indisposition—though Dr. Valli observed himself, as I afterwards understood, as soon as he took sick, that he had the yellow fever, and should not survive it. On the 23d in the morning, Dr. Romei called to see him, as also Dr. Boutefeur and myself. He recognised us, but was evidently sinking under the weight of his disorder, being at that time comatose, with clammy sweats, cool extremities, and a depressed intermitting pulse. On the 24th, at 10 in the forenoon, the doctor expired perfectly easy. It was said he vomited black matter before he died."

* Valle, a Spanish gentleman: the other is Valli.

New-York, November 13.

Singular Villainy.—One day last month, the following extraordinary act of atrocity was committed in the neighborhood of Freehold, Green Co. in this state. A woman in a decent garb, travelling on foot with a child in her arms, stopped at a house on the road, (probably selected for the purpose) the mistress of which was busied in clearing off her dinner table from which the males of the family had just gone to their labor in the field, while her child lay sleeping in its cradle. The wanderer complained of great fatigue, and begged permission to stop with her burden and rest awhile. The good woman kindly consented, bid her put her child in the cradle with her own, offered her some food and proceeded in her work.—The stranger kept the children quiet until she said she was well refreshed and ready to depart, when she took one of them and carfully wrapped it in its blanket, thanked her hostsess very civily for her entertainment and left the house. Half an hour after the infant remaining in the cradle awoke, and the mother went to the cradle to nurse it; when upon opening its covering she was struck with horror at finding a black child instead of her own! The neighbors were alarmed, and the magistrates applied to and a search immediately commenced for the artful wretch who had perpetrated the nefarious act, but without success a fortnight after the event, when our informant was at the place.

In Paris, the gallery of the theatre is call d Paradise. The Duchess of Orleans took a fancy to go to the play one night, with only a fille de chambre and to sit there. A young officer sat next her, who was very free in his addresses, and when the play was over, concluded by offering her a supper, which she seemed to accept. He accompanied her down stairs, but was confounded when he saw her attendants and equipage and heard her name. Recovering, however, his presence of mind, he handed her into her carriage, bowed in silence, and was retiring, when she called out, where is the supper you promised? He bowed and replied, "in Paradise madam, we are all equals; but I am not insensible of the respect I owe you on earth." The prompt and proper reply obtained for him a place in the Duchess' carriage and at her table.

We are informed that a gentleman who has held a respectable standing in society, has been arrested on a change of murdering his wife and child. We have not been informed of the details with sufficient certainty to justify us in publishing them.

TO TIME.

Lost to myself, if e'er I live
The willing slave of guilt or gold,
And Vice's glittering bribe receive
For Virtue wrong'd, or Freedom sold—
Time, on thy swiftest pinions fly,
And veil in death my infamy!

But if, alive to glorious deeds,
To feelings high, and wit refined,
I court the generous warmth that feeds
The lofty thought, the god-like mind—
If active pity, prompt to aid
Merit oppress'd or worth betray'd—

Time, stay thy flight! for I would seek
In honorable age to rest;
Would wish affection's moisten'd cheek
To lean upon my throbbing breast;
And virtue and renown to shed
Their halo round my dying head!

The Real Estate of STEEL SEMPLE, Deceased.

THIS LAND is situated within 2 and 3 miles of Pittsburgh, and is divided into small Lots of from five, six, ten and twelve acres.

The survey and draft are now completed, and the lines of the Lots and lanes, plainly and distinctly marked on the ground.

This land is fertile, near to the city, and convenient to good roads. It is so divided as to be convenient for gardners, persons desirous of attending market, or to farmers of small capital. As Out-lots, they are well suited to persons residing in the city.

They are offered for Sale on a credit of from twelve to eighteen months. The plan can be seen at my office. WILLIAM WILKINS.

July 26, 1816.

For Sale on Perpetual Ground Rent,

THE TWO HOUSES and LOT where the subscriber now lives, nearly opposite Mr. Beelen's Store, Front street. For trade or any public business there are few situations better in this city. For particulars, enquire of

RICHARD HANCOCK.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE Subscriber will Sell the whole or any part of the following described Valuable Property, viz :—

A LOT OF GROUND, situate at the corner of Smithfield and Second Streets, in the City of Pittsburgh, containing 50 feet in front on Smithfield Street, and 66 and an half feet in depth. This Lot can be conveniently divided into two handsome building Lots of 25 feet front each; and the scite of the Bridge over the Monongahela River being fixed at the mouth of Smithfield Street, renders them eligible stands for Mercantile, Manufacturing, or Mechanical business.

THREE LOTS OF GROUND in the City of Pittsburgh—one fronting on Second Street, opposite the New Market, fronting a square of 100 feet wide extending to Smithfield Street, containing 40 feet front on Second Street, and extending in depth towards Front Street 65 feet, on which is erected a large and commodious Warehouse, suitable for any person engaged in Commission business—and its vicinity to the river, renders it peculiarly advantageous to mercantile men. The other two Lots are situated on the north side of Front Street—one of them containing 40 feet front on Front Street, and extending in depth towards Second Street 65 feet, on which is erected a large two story Frame Dwelling House, recently occupied by Thomas Bracken— he other adjoining the above 20 feet in front on Front Street, and 65 feet deep; both eligible situations for business.

Also, AN OUT LOT, adjoining the City, containing about 16 acres, and adjoining property belonging to Doctor George Stevenson, and James R. Butler, bounded on the Monongahela river, and the public road leading to the Turnpike at Thompson's Lane. This Lot is in the highest state of cultivation, with a thriving young Orchard of the best grafted fruit, a Brick Spring House, over one of the finest springs in the Western Country, and a variety of other improvements. This Lot will be Sold either in whole, or be divided into small Lots, to suit purchasers, a plan of which may be seen on application to the subscriber.

The whole of the above described property, recently belonged to the late Thomas Bracken. The terms will be liberal and accommodating to purchasers. Any person wishing to view any part of the property, will apply to the subscriber, or those on the premises.

DOCTOR CHISHOLM'S Anti-Bilious Pills,

Of a quality superior to any thing of the kind ever offered as a GENERAL MEDICINE, in this Countr.

NOW prepared from a recipe of the celebrated Dr. Chisholm, who, from a long residence in the West-India Islands, has been enabled to favor the world with the most complete history, and most approved methods of curing all the BILIOUS DISEASES of those warm climates.

This extraordinary Medicine, which now for the first time is finding its way into general practice, has properties in the highest degree superior to the mercurial nostrums so frequently recommended by the name of Anti-Bilious Pills. The extraordinary powers of this medicine as a solvent and evacuent of Bile, is without example; never producing debility or injuring the health, in the smallest degree, of the most delicate child or weakly female:

The BILIOUS HEAD-ACHE, so much complained of in this country, and in the neighbourhood of rivers, is often removed by a single dose, which, to a strong man, is only five pills, and to a weakly woman, three. The same dose will generally remove the most excruciating pains of the cholic, like a charm, by abusing the bile to pass downwards in the course of an hour or two.

Two or three Pills taken an hour before dinner, and repeated every third day, will effectually remove those diseases arising from flatulency and indigestion, and by persevering in the use of them for a considerable time, the appetite will be improved, and strength and vigor will return.

Two Pills taken at bed time, with a cup of penny-royal tea, and repeated every second night, will effectually remove Rheumatic pains wherever seated.

A single Pill, taken every fourth hour with a cup of flaxseed tea, will cure Pleurisy, promote expectoration, and relieve coughs and colds.

In CONSUMPTIVE CASES and DISEASES OF THE LIVER, no medicine ever yet discovered, has been known to perform such cures. Two Pills taken every third morning, will be found sufficient, unless costiveness prevails; in which case the dose may be increased according to the strength or constituton.

The Dysentery, Croup, and Summer Complaint on children, are soon relieved by a few doses. A single Pill to a child of 6 years old, and the dose increased according to their strength and age.

In Asthmatic or Phthisical cases, where the laborious breathing & great oppression, with faintings, are fast sinking the patient to the brink of the grave, a few Pills, taking one every hour, with fennel or pepper-mint tea, will often enable the patient to walk about in a few hours.

The above valuable Medicine is Sold ONLY in Pittsburgh, by
J. P. & J. W. SKELTON,
at their Wholesale and Retail Apothecary and Drug Store.
